NEW Video Game Social!

We will have various gaming consoles (Xbox, Xbox 360, WII, Gamecube) and lots of multiplayer games (Halo, COD, various Mario games) and will be playing in the brand new IQ-Wall Room in Wells Library! No need to be an expert gamer, just come have fun and bring your friends (boys included)! Bring games and controllers if you have them! We will be having pizza, chips, and other snacks.

Date: Thursday, December 11th
Time: 7:00pm
Where: Wells Library, Scholars’ Commons IQ-Wall Room (first floor, east tower)
RSVP: HERE

NEW Google Tech Talk

IU Alum Mark Meiss has been working at Google for four years, and next Monday he will be on campus to talk about what that’s like and opportunities available for students at Google. Those who attend his talk can also RSVP at the event to meet with him one-on-one to discuss their research and interests and how they might fit at Google. Any student who is majoring in Computer Science, Informatics, or a related field, can attend; this is not only for those who will be graduating soon.

Date: Monday, December 8th
Time: 6:30pm
Where: Woodburn Hall, Room 101
