Provost's Travel Award for Women in Science

These professional development awards are to supplement trips for women scientists to conferences and research facilities. Graduate students, post-doctoral associates and untenured faculty are especially encouraged to apply. Student and post-doctoral applications should be submitted by the PI or laboratory supervisor. Applications may be submitted at any time to the Assistant Dean for Research, Jo Anne Tracy, jotracey@iu.edu, and should include the following information:

1) A brief outline of the purpose of the trip (to attend a meeting, work on a collaborative project, etc.);
2) An up-to-date CV of the person who will travel;
3) Dates of the proposed trip;
4) Anticipated impact on professional development;
5) Projected cost of transportation and lodging; and,
6) Availability of other funds that will help to supplement the costs of the proposed trip.

While it is desirable for PIs to contribute as well, this is certainly not required if there are no other sources of funds are available.

The following stipulations apply:

1) Only future travel will be funded. Trips or any part of the travel costs that have already been incurred will not be reimbursed.
2) Per Diem costs should not be included in the anticipated travel costs.
3) Funds must be used for the approved travel only. If the awardee is unable to travel as planned, the awardee should notify us with the reason the trip was cancelled. If a new opportunity for travel arises, the awardee must apply for new funds.
